

2011 Super Saturday Performances

Prelude music

David Chamberlin

Easter Passacaglia based on a hymn tune by Robert Cundick	David Chamberlin
LDS Hymn Voluntary: "Where Can I Turn for Peace?"	Chamberlin
Chorale Prelude: "Herzlich tut mich verlangen", BWV 727 (see hymn #197)	J. S. Bach
LDS Hymn Voluntary: "I Know that My Redeemer Lives"	Chamberlin
LDS Hymn Voluntary: "Rejoice, the Lord Is King!"	Chamberlin

Hymn Sing

- #66 – "Rejoice, the Lord Is King!"
- #116 – "Come, Follow Me"
All six verses. Verses 3 and 5 in unison.
- #227 – "There Is Sunshine in My Soul Today"
- #113 – "Our Savior's Love"
- #197 – "O Savior, Thou Who Wearest a Crown"
Verses 1 and 4 only

Postlude

LDS Hymn Voluntary: "He Is Risen"	Chamberlin
-----------------------------------	------------

About the performer: David Chamberlin builds, plays, and writes music for pipe organs. He is the vice-president and tonal director at M. L. Bigelow & Company, Inc., Organ Builders, of American Fork. He has performed recitals in the United States and Germany. In 2003, he began publishing LDS Hymn Voluntaries, bearing the slogan: "An organ piece for every hymn in the book." For details about the Voluntaries see: <http://www.chamberlinmusic.com/oom.php>.

Closing Recital

Seth Bott

Pomp and Circumstance

Edward Elgar

Cantilena from Sonata 11

Joseph Rheinberger

Come, Come, Ye Saints

Arr. Seth Bott

About the performer: Seth Bott loves people and the organ. He graduated with a bachelor of music in organ performance from BYU this week. He will remain at BYU to complete a master of music and then plans on pursuing a doctorate of music.