

DEAN'S MESSAGE

This is the best time of the year to encourage your fellow organists to join with us. From February 1 through March 31, the AGO offers special reduced rates for new members (and includes nine issues of The American Organist). Our own local programs for February through May are not only geared to the interests of the chapter members, but are also well suited to introducing your friends to the Guild. Please take the enclosed letter and give it to someone you would like to see join our circle. Then, BRING that someone with you to our events each month. I have already invited someone to come with me to the Provo Tabernacle in February and the Bigelow factory in March. Think what would happen if each one of us did this! We have so much to offer! We can be that motivation or inspiration that our local organists could be needing. In striving to improve our own skills and magnify our own callings, we need to reach out and help others in their efforts to do the same.

P.S. We would like to send next month's newsletter to your friend(s) so that they will know about the upcoming events. Please give their address to DeeAnn Stone.

FEBRUARY CHAPTER MEETING

Many of us have been interested in the Provo Tabernacle organ restoration project. This month, members of our chapter, and anyone else who is interested, will have the opportunity to get a first-hand view of what progress has been made. Ron Poll, who is heading up the project, has graciously consented to show us the work that has been done and tell us the background of this great undertaking.

We will meet at the Tabernacle at 7:30 p.m. on February 20th. Afterwards, Scott Mills has invited us to come over to the Hotel Roberts (192 S. University) for refreshments and a tour. Scott has been instrumental in restoring the hotel, which was built in 1882. We will meet in the History Room, which was created in 1919 by the original owners.

We are grateful to Ron Poll and Scott Mills for playing a part in preserving the heritage of this valley and making this an enriching evening for us. Please tell others of this event and invite them to come, too!

MARCH CHAPTER MEETING

We have another exciting event planned for the March meeting. Mike Bigelow and David Chamberlin will be giving us a tour of their tracker organ factory (located at 130 W. 100 S., American Fork). The Salt Lake Chapter will be joining us, too. The event will be on Saturday, March 23rd, at 10:00 a.m. Following the tour, we will have a light lunch.
